APR Training Classes & Demos

Our world-class Technical Center is the place to learn. With targeted training, demonstrations of new technology, state-of-the-art flexo equipment, learning is key to the success of our customers.

We frequently host training events and seminars where we offer discounted rates for APR customers. Check out our website at www.teamflexo.com/events/ for upcoming events. Be sure to sign up early, these events sell out quickly!

Attend our classes and perhaps you too can become an APR Flexo Ninja!

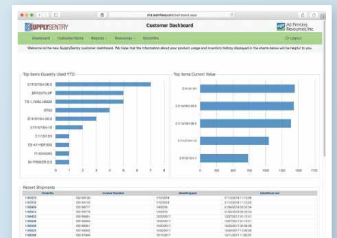

APR's exclusive SUPPLYSENTRY System makes sure you never run out of supplies.

APR's SUPPLYSENTRY inventory management system continuously monitors all of the supply items you use on a daily basis, such as stickybacks, tapes, doctor blades, end seals, photopolymer, safety supplies, and much more.

This system utilizes the latest in RFID technology to automatically keep track of what you use and what you have on-hand. The system tracks inventory levels in real time and utilizes Artificial Intelligence (AI) to anticipate your needs based on your usage history, and then calculates the quantities needed. APR alerts you when replenishment is needed, and all you need to do is approve the order. This allows you to focus on your business, and not on tracking your MRO supply levels.

SUPPLYSENTRY's web-based interface allows you to see at a glance what they currently have in stock. You can see what items you stock, the quantity of each item on hand, the quantity in transit, and the suggested amount needed to replenish your supply.

The SUPPLYSENTRY website also allows you to make adjustments to your inventory levels as your needs change. You can set the maximum quantity, the minimum quantity and the re-order point for each item.
