

Leading the way: The #1 worldwide provider of flexo plates for the packaging industry

FLEXOGRAPHY

Enhancing your plate performance

We know quality and consistency are cornerstones of your business and we can help you achieve a competitive edge with our flexo plate solutions.

As the leading prepress provider and flexo plate manufacturer for the packaging industry, we invest heavily in technology and automation, working alongside material providers to influence, understand, and secure first access to product innovation so we can ensure our partners receive the best. Our position in the industry means we have the capacity to handle high volume production needs, meeting printer demands, even on tight timelines.

Gone West!

We are excited to announce that we are expanding our production footprint with a West Coast operation in the Greater Los Angeles Area, providing prepress & print services including flexo plate manufacturing.

Centers of Excellence

Our facilities in Atlanta, Florence, Minneapolis and Toronto operate a total of 26 CDI imaging devices and four Kodaks, outputting an industry leading 576MM square inches of polymer annually.

Our Flexo Centers of Excellence offer full-service plates from simple to complex, including Basic Corrugate, Amazon FFP/SIOC and High End Displays. Additional offerings include Kongsberg plate patchers, conventional & pin mounting for up to 200 mounts per day, corrugated press tech teams and cutting die partnerships.

Performance Plates

We are passionate about what's next, which is why we've enhanced our plate offering to achieve previously unreachable results. With our new performance plates, we combine our closed loop color management with innovative, proprietary, high resolution screens in a vast array of plate materials to assure the right solution for every print environment.

Commitment to Sustainability

Now, more than ever, brands, businesses and consumers alike are searching for a path to a more promising future. We want to support those who are bold enough to make a difference by helping identify sustainable packaging initiatives, commitments and actions that create real impact.

If you have any questions or want to get the conversation started, reach out to info@sgsco.com or visit sgsco.com.

